Online Learning

WHAT

Strategy is key to development of a Curriculum Plan that engages both the Club President and President-Elect as well as using the Multi-District PETS as a single event in Training Continuum under the responsibility of the District Governor Elect

Content for Online Training is driven by the developed master curriculum and our need to prepare students for attending class as well as follow up to class completion

Using surveys allows us to maintain a two-way communication that allows us to improve our programs and content

Further it allows current presidents to become mentors to the president-elect for their club.
